

Manifesto of the Solar System Society

We, the Solar System Society, a united group of visionaries, dreamers, and pioneers, hereby come together to secure our claims in cosmic space and assert our rights over the expanses of the solar system.

With this manifesto, we solemnly declare our intent to claim ownership, usage, and full rights to all planets, moons, and other objects—whether discovered or yet undiscovered—within our solar system, with the express exception of Earth.

Our Identity:

We are the Solar System Society—a community dedicated to the exploration, preservation, and equitable use of cosmic resources. Our name reflects our connection to the solar system, whose immeasurable beauty and opportunities we aim to make accessible to all. Anyone who participates in the project through tokens and seeks to secure claims automatically becomes a part of the Solar System Society.

Our Intentions:

1. Claim Assertion

We lay claim to the planets Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune, as well as all their natural satellites. Likewise, we claim the dwarf planets, asteroids, comets, and all other celestial bodies traversing the solar system or yet to be discovered in the future.

2. Ownership Declaration

We hereby declare ownership of these objects as the collective heritage of the Solar System Community, to preserve their integrity and shape their use in accordance with our vision.

3. Acquisition of Full Rights

We demand unrestricted rights to the exploration, settlement, resource extraction, and cultural utilization of all aforementioned celestial bodies, with the exclusion of Earth, which we respect as the origin and exception of our terrestrial roots.

Our Vision

The Solar System Society Community strives for a future in which the solar system is no longer merely a distant horizon but a realm of possibilities for all who join our community. We advocate for a sustainable, peaceful, and innovative use of cosmic expanses, free from the constraints of earthly conflicts.

Our Commitment

With this manifesto, we pledge to uphold the principles of justice, cooperation, and discovery. We invite everyone to join the Solar System Society Community and become part of this cosmic journey.

Closing Statement

The solar system does not belong to any single individual but to all of us—the Solar System Society Community. With this manifesto, we mark the beginning of a new era in which the stars are no longer boundaries but invitations.

Note on Legal Status:

We explicitly point out that the current legal situation regarding ownership and usage rights of celestial bodies in the solar system remains uncertain and internationally unresolved. Existing treaties, such as the Outer Space Treaty of 1967, prohibit national appropriation of celestial bodies but leave room for interpretation regarding non-state actors such as our community. We view this uncertainty as an opportunity and advocate for future legal developments that could recognize and affirm the claims of the Solar System Society Community. A change in the legal framework in favor of the Solar System Society Society is not only possible but is actively pursued by us.
